

Alternative Histories

Ink & Bone : the Great Library

by Rachel Caine

Working in an alternate universe where the Great Library of Alexandria survived destruction, Jess is torn between his employers and his family's black-market book ring before an illegal innovation leads to a terrible discovery.

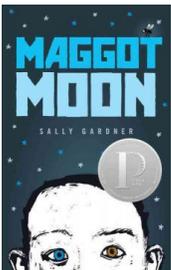

Battlesaurus : Rampage at Waterloo

by Brian Falkner

In this alternate history, Napoleon wins at Waterloo by unleashing a secret battlefield weapon—a legion of giant, carnivorous dinosaurs imported from the wilds of the Americas—and only 15-year-old Willem Verheyen stands in the way of the emperor's plan for world domination.

Maggot Moon

by Sally Gardner

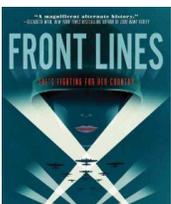

Standish Treadwell, a boy who is ostracized for his illiteracy and different-colored eyes, discovers astonishing truths about a heralded moon landing that the overseeing Motherland, a ruthless regime, is determined to hide.

Abraham Lincoln : Vampire Hunter

by Seth Grahame-Smith

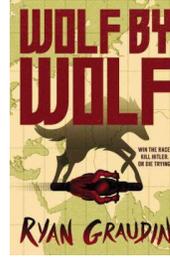

Reveals the hidden life of the 16th U.S. president, who was actually a vampire hunter, obsessed with the complete elimination of the undead, and uncovers the role vampires played in the birth, grown and near-death of the nation.

Front Lines

by Michael Grant

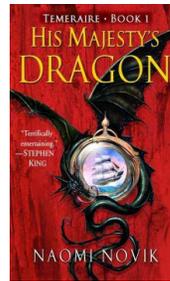

An epic, genre-bending, transformative new series that reimagines World War II with girl soldiers fighting on the front lines.

Wolf by Wolf

by Ryan Graudin

In a tale set in an alternate-history mid-20th century where the Axis powers have won World War II, Yael, a death camp escapee, aspires to win a high-profile motorcycle race so that she can assassinate Hitler.

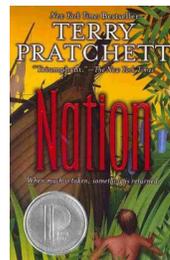

His Majesty's Dragon

by Naomi Novik

When the HMS Reliant captures a French ship and its priceless cargo, an unhatched dragon egg, Captain Will Laurence is swept into an unexpected kinship with an extraordinary creature and joins the elite Aerial Corps as a master of the dragon Temeraire, in which role he must match wits with the powerful dragon-borne forces of Napoleon Bonaparte.

Nation

by Terry Pratchett

After a tsunami destroys all that they have ever known, Mau, an island boy, and Daphne, an aristocratic English girl, together with a small band of refugees, set about rebuilding their community and the things that matter to them.

Leviathan

by Scott Westerfeld

It's 1914 and Europe is on the precipice of war--the German Clankers and British Darwinists are armed with futuristic weaponry and biotechnology; in the midst of the chaos, Alek, a royal and potential threat to the throne, and Deryn, a common Darwinist, meet on the run and forge an uneasy alliance that will dramatically change the course of the Great War and their lives.
