

Wonderful Wordless Reads

Flashlight

by Lizi Boyd

In this story without words, a boy explores the woods after dark with a flashlight

A ball for Daisy

by Christopher Raschka

Told through impressionistic illustrations by the Caldecott Medal-winning author of The Hello, Goodbye Window, a poignant, wordless tale features an endearing young dog that is heartbroken when a bigger dog destroys a favorite toy.

Quest

by Aaron Becker

After being surprised by a king emerging from a magical door at the park and pressing a map and strange objects into their hands before being captured and disappearing, two children are swept up in an imaginative, wordless quest to save the king and his realm from dark forces.

Changes, changes

by Pat Hutchins

Two wooden dolls rearrange colorful building blocks to create new things they need on their adventures, everything from a house to a steamboat.

The farmer and the clown

by Marla Frazee

An endearing, wordless picture book by a two-time Caldecott Honor medalist depicts the adventures of a baby clown who is separated from his circus family and who bonds with a lonely farmer over the course of a day filled with surprising discoveries.

The girl and the bicycle

by Mark Pett

Hoping to raise money to buy a shiny new bicycle, a little girl offers to do yardwork for her neighbors and is turned away by all except a kindly old woman with whom she works side by side through the seasons. By the creator of The Boy and the Airplane.

Polo and the magician!

by Régis Faller

When a flood carries him to a secret island circus, tiny adventurer Polo is all too eager to join in the fun and quickly heads to center stage to perform as a world-class tiger-taming magician, to the crowd's great delight.

You can't take a balloon into the Metropolitan Museum

by Jacqueline Preiss Weitzman

In this wordless story, a young girl and her grandmother view works inside the Metropolitan Museum of Art, while the balloon she has been forced to leave outside floats around New York City causing a series of mishaps that mirror scenes in the museum's artworks. An ALA Notable Book.

Sector 7

by David Wiesner

From the author of Tuesday comes a fantastical new tale combining art, friendship, and the weather as a young boy, while on a school trip to the Empire State Building, befriends an impish little cloud who spirits him off to the Cloud Dispatch Center for Sector 7.

Trainstop

by Barbara Lehman

Youngsters are invited to take a magical train ride where there is always something new--and strange--to see! By the creator of The Red Book.

Newburgh Free Library

124 Grand Street

Newburgh, New York 12550-4692 | (845)563-3600

www.newburghlibrary.org