The Mothers
by Brit Bennett Mourning her mother’s suicide, 17-year-old Nadia Turner takes up with the local pastor’s son. Her unplanned pregnancy and its subsequent cover-up have consequences far beyond their youth.

The Strange Library: 107
by Haruki Murakami
From the internationally acclaimed author of Colorless Tsukuru Tazaki and His Years of Pilgrimage comes a fantastical illustrated short novel about a boy imprisoned in a nightmarish library.

The Bone Clocks
by David Mitchell
Six interwoven narratives span the period between 1984 and the 2030s, chronicling a secret war between a cult of soul-decanters and heroic vigilantes trying to take them down. By the award-winning author of Cloud Atlas.

Spinster: Making a Life of One’s Own
by Kate Bolick
Celebrating unmarried womanhood, Bolick examines figures like Edna St. Vincent Millay, Edith Wharton, and Ganna Walska — and charts changing views on women and marriage.
The Tsar of Love and Techno: Stories
by Anthony Marra

Ruby
by Cynthia Bond
Loving the beautiful but damaged Ruby all of his life, Ephram is torn between his sister and a chance for a life with Ruby when the latter returns to their small hometown and confronts the forces that traumatized her early years.

The Children Act
by Ian McEwan
A respected London judge hides her plans to separate from a husband who wants an open marriage, as she copes with a case involving parents whose faith forbids a life-saving blood transfusion or their son.

I Shall Be Near to You
by Erin Lindsay McCabe
Inspired by true accounts, the novel follows the extraordinary experiences of a woman who, disguised as a man, fights beside her husband in the American Civil War—an effort that tests the bonds of their relationship.

The Vegetarian
by Kang Han
Going vegetarian in the wake of violent thoughts, Yeong-hye, a woman from an Asian culture of strict societal mores, is denounced as a subversive and spirals into extreme rebelliousness that splinters her true nature and puts her life at risk.

Selections from http://www.sjpforhogarth.com/#whatimreading