FALL 2019

FALL 2019

The Sisters Brothers
by Patrick DeWitt

A genre-bending frontier saga that is exciting, funny, and, perhaps unexpectedly, moving.

The One
by John Marrs

In this mystery with an SF twist, the world has been radically changed by a new kind of dating service: Match Your DNA, which pairs love-seekers with the one person who is their genetic soulmate.

White Elephant
by Julie Langsdorf

The seemingly idyllic suburb of Willard Park, outside Washington, D.C., quickly becomes a battleground as developer Nick pushes forward his ostentatious construction projects.

Magpie Murders
by Anthony Horowitz

When editor Susan Ryeland receives a best-selling mystery author's new manuscript, she is annoyed to discover the final chapter is missing and that the author is dead.

The Thirteenth Tale
by Diane Setterfield

Margaret Lea, a bookish loner, is summoned to the home of Vida Winter, England's most popular novelist, and commanded to write her biography.

A Shot in the Dark
by Lynn Truss

Truss transplants the quirky, clever wit that drove her nonfiction best-seller, Eats, Shoots & Leaves, to fiction in this mystery starring Brighton, England, police officers Steine, Brunswick, and Twitten and featuring assorted oddballs on both sides of the law.
