

Diverse Books

Dreamers

by Yuyi Morales

Traces the journey the author and her son made in 1994, when they immigrated from Mexico to the United States

Frida Kahlo and her animalitos

by Monica Brown

A picture book tribute to the iconic Mexican artist reveals how the animals in her life and her personal struggles inspired many of her works of art and how her achievements raised awareness about her indigenous culture and the female form.

The name jar

by Yangsook Choi

After Unhei moves from Korea to the United States, she is anxious for her new classmates to like her, so to find a name they can more easily pronounce, they decide to help her by filling a glass jar with names for her to pick from.

Henry's first-moon birthday

by Lenore Look

As her family prepares to honor the Chinese tradition of the "first moon" birthday for her little brother Henry, Jenny gets a bit envious over all the fuss, but soon she decides to lend a helping hand to prepare all the food and decorations for the grand celebration that will soon take place.

Cool cuts

by Mechal Renee Roe

This book depicts uplifting examples of African American boys and their culturally inspired hairstyles on spreads that repeat the inspiring refrain, "I am born to be awesome!" Illustrations.

This is the rope : a story from the Great Migration

by Jacqueline Woodson

A rope passed down through the generations frames an African American family's story as they journey north during the time of the Great

Migration

Birdsong

by Julie Flett

A celebration of art, nature and connecting across generations traces the experiences of a young girl who moves to a small town, where her friendship with an elderly fellow crafter is shaped by the seasons and her awareness of her friend's failing health. By the creator of Wild Berries. Illustrations.

My name is Yoon

by Helen Recorvits

Disliking her name as written in English, Korean-born Yoon wants to use a different name to help her feel more comfortable in her new school and new country

A different pond

by Bao Phi

"As a young boy, Bao Phi awoke early, hours before his father's long workday began, to fish on the shores of a small pond in Minneapolis. Unlike many other anglers, Bao and his father fished for food, not recreation. Between hope-filled casts, Bao's father told him about a different pond in their homeland of Vietnam"

Cyrenius H Booth Library

25 Main St

Newtown, Connecticut 06470 | 203-426-8552

www.chboothlibrary.org/