

READ WOKE

reading challenge

Diverse Abilities Voices | Picture books available thru York Public Library

Read Woke is a movement. It is a feeling. It is a style. It is a form of education. It is a call to action; it is our right as lifelong learners. It means arming yourself with knowledge in order to better protect your rights. Knowledge is power and no one can take it away. It means learning about others so that you can treat people with the respect and dignity that they deserve no matter their religion, race, creed, or color.

Just ask! : be different be brave, be you

by Sonia Sotomayor

The boundary-breaking Supreme Court Justice and the award-winning author of Book Fiesta present a celebration of the world's diversity that explains why different people make the world more vibrant and wonderful, just the way a variety of plants and flowers enhance a garden.

My ocean is blue

by Darren Lebeuf

A young girl explores the beach with her mother, noticing the sights, sounds, and colors of the ocean

Hello goodbye dog

by Maria Gianferrari

A faithful dog who loves nothing more than to help his girl chews through tethers and escapes from crates, their home and the backyard in order to follow her to locations where dogs are not allowed. By the author of Coyote Moon and the award-winning illustrator of MINE!

Helen's big world : the life of Helen Keller

by Doreen Rappaport

A narrative portrait of the inspirational blind and deaf American woman traces her life and legacy while considering how her advocacy for innovation and progress changed the world, in a volume complemented by poignant illustrations and evocative quotes.

Tuesday tucks me in : the loyal bond between a soldier and his service dog

by Luis Carlos Montalván

Based on the New York Times best-seller, this full-color picture book is filled with adorable photographs that tell the story of the amazing service dog who helps former U.S. Army Captain Luis Carlos Montalván overcome his combat-related wounds

Rescue & Jessica : a life-changing friendship

by Jessica Kensky

When he is paired with a girl who has lost her legs, Rescue worries that he isn't up to the task of being her service dog

York Public Library

15 Long Sands Rd
York, Maine 03909 | (207) 363-2818
www.york.lib.me.us/

We'll paint the octopus red

by S. A. Bodeen

Emma and her father discuss what they will do when the new baby arrives, but they adjust their expectations when he is born with Down syndrome

The black book of colors

by Menena Cottin

Illustrations with raised lines and descriptions of color based on imagery provide readers with an interactive experience to the concept of blindness, and includes a full Braille alphabet.

A friend for Henry

by Jenn Bailey

Henry would like to find a friend at school, but for a boy on the autism spectrum, making friends can be difficult, as his efforts are sometimes misinterpreted, or things just go wrong--but Henry keeps trying, and in the end he finds a friend he can playwith

King for a day

by Rukhsana Khan

"Even though he is confined to a wheelchair, a Pakistani boy tries to capture the most kites during Basant, the annual spring kite festival, and become "king" for the day. Includes an afterword about the Basant festival"--Provided by publisher

This beach is loud!

by Samantha Cotterill

A sensitive boy is overwhelmed by the sights, sounds and sensations of a family visit to a noisy, exciting beach, until his father offers some creative ways to manage. Simultaneous eBook.

Piano starts here : the young Art Tatum

by Robert Andrew Parker

Despite being nearly blind, young Art Tatum's passion for the piano and incredible memory in learning music kept his dream of becoming a pianist alive; making him a virtuoso at a young age with skills that were highly respected by many others in his field.